9 Unique Wedding Decoration Ideas At Home

If you're going for an intimate wedding occasion at home, you don't need to brainstorm ideas anymore. We present you with this ultimate guide to exclusive wedding home décor ideas.

A wedding is one of the most important events in our lives, and an ideal home wedding can easily replace the destination wedding with its minimalistic charm — from a luxurious mandap to eco-friendly Haldi décor to tranquil cocktail-party styling.

Highlight Your Entrance

The foyer area of your wedding should set the tone of the party. Since flowers are considered auspicious, use fuchsia, plum, pink, and white florals on stone planters. A simple toran is a tasteful addition, and a gold-toned ceiling lamp adds to the grandeur. A pegboard wall and shoe cabinet are thoughtful, functional touches that keep the entryway as beautiful as it is practical.

Transform Your Living Room Into a Cocktail Party

Choose lustrous silk curtains embellished with fairy lights and lamps. Place stone planters on either side, decorated with fuchsia or white flowers, and add a bar unit with stools so guests can enjoy the evening in comfort.

A Minimalistic Registry Wedding on the Balcony

Young couples often want a low-key registry marriage within their close circle — a fuss-free décor is all they need. A small plush sofa, sheer curtains accentuated with fresh flowers, and fairy lights throughout the balcony create a subtle, intimate vibe without overdoing it.
